Step 4: Configure Hack Settings

- Open the Examripper menu overlay.
- For the fastest, most accurate results, set the following:
 - Subject Optimization: ON
 - Brainly: OFF (enabling makes things slower, but usually more accurate)
- Click Start to begin.

The image shows a screenshot of a web-based quiz interface for 'Geometry (2023)' on '5.1.3 Quiz: Angle Sums of a Polygon and Proofs'. A dark grey menu overlay is displayed in the top right corner, titled 'Examripper' with '9,999,999 quizzes left'. It includes tabs for 'Sources' (selected) and 'Behavior'. The 'Subject Optimization' section has a toggle switch labeled 'Enable' which is turned on (green). Below it are buttons for 'Math' (highlighted with a red arrow), 'Science', 'English', 'History', 'Spanish', and 'Other'. The 'Brainly Results' button is turned off. At the bottom are 'Stats' and 'Start' buttons, with a note 'Ctrl+D to quick start/stop' next to the 'Start' button. Red arrows numbered 1 through 4 point to specific elements: Step 1 points to the 'Start' button; Step 2 points to the 'Enable' switch; Step 3 points to the 'Math' button; and Step 4 points to the 'Start' button again. In the bottom right corner of the main page, there is a circular 'Brainly' logo.

Step 5: Let Examripper Finish the Quiz

- The tool will automatically complete the entire quiz for you.
- You'll see the results – often 100% correct!

FAQ & Tips

How do I slow down the bot?

- Go to Settings > Behavior > Action Delay
- Add a delay for each action (answering, clicking next, etc) to mimic a human pace.

- Reference screenshot:

The screenshot shows a quiz interface from 'Geometry (2023)' titled '5.3.3 Quiz: Tests for Parallelograms'. A red arrow labeled 'Step 1.' points to the 'Sources' button in the top right corner of the extension's floating panel. Another red arrow labeled 'Step 2.' points to the 'Action Delay' setting, which is currently enabled (switch is on).
